School Board To Approve Projects For C. W. A. Work

Special Meeting Gives Tentative Approval To Improvement Projects

THOUSANDS OF HOURS OF LABOR INVOLVED

Final Action Of Approval To Be Given On Wednesday Evening

Nearly 25,000 man hours of labor will be provided by the schools of New Castle if it is indicated at a special meeting of the board Monday afternoon. The work will be done by the Civil Works Administration, the school board to furnish the materials and tools necessary.

No final action was taken by the board Monday inasmuch as the meeting had been called by telephone and therefore was not classed as a legal meeting. It was merely for the purpose of ascertaining if enough board members would go along with the projected work so the project applications could be put before Administrator L. B. Round by Wednesday morning. A board meeting will be held Wednesday night but this would have been too late to get the project applications in.

McIlvenny Presides

In the absence of the vice president, J. Herbert McIlvenny, presided. Present were A. C. Hyde, Roy W. Hazen, Dr. W. D. Cleland, Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett and A. W. Bauman. Opening the meeting Mr. McIlvenny stated that the meeting was not a legal one as it was called under 48 hours of notice, but was merely for informative purposes.

He then asked Mr. Bauman to present the list of projects suggested by the building committee, to be (Continued On Page Seven)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Prompt action of the New Castle school board is submitting a list of work projects for the C. W. A. as requested, is commendable. Certainly there has been a proposition where the city has more to gain than providing projects for the C. W. A. At the same time work is being provided for many men who have long been unemployed.

Lawrence County Garden Club has taken the initiative in sponsoring a holiday home decorating contest again this year. Plans for the contest are announced elsewhere in this issue. Prizes are to be awarded in every ward in the city. Every effort should be made to make the holiday decoration of the city this year one that will be memorable. Let's go!

New Castle and Lawrence County are again getting an early winter touch of near zero weather. Thermometers got down around a few degrees above zero this morning for the second time in a month.

Plans for Lawrence County's new courthouse provided for something new in this section of the country, a county jail on the top floors of an eight story building. In western and southern states this plan is followed, but there is no building of this kind in this general district.

The coldest weather of the fall was reported this morning, when the government thermometers at the Water Works showed four above zero. This was two degrees colder than the low mark established during the season.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning follow:

Maximum temperature, 20.
Minimum temperature, 4.
Precipitation .04 inches, four-tenths inches snow.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:

Maximum temperature, 34.
Minimum temperature, 24.
Precipitation .09 inches.

Permanent Registration Likely For New Castle

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 12.—Bills providing for permanent registration in Pittsburgh and third-class cities moved forward toward enactment in the senate today as the Howell bill setting up permanent registration in Scranton went to Gov. Gifford Pinchot's desk.

The Harris bill for Pittsburgh was up for final passage and the Mansfield bill for third-class cities was scheduled to receive second reading. The senate sent the Howell bill to the governor after concurring in house amendments changing from three to four the number of members on the registration commission. The Harris measure has been similarly amended.

Two other measures changing election laws also were up for second reading in the upper chamber. They were the Harris bill eliminating paid watchers at elections and the Mansfield bill repealing the tax qualification clause in election laws to conform to the constitutional amendment adopted last November.

CITY PRESENTS FIVE MORE WORK PROJECTS

Will Be Sent To Harrisburg For Approval At Once By Round

Rumor Of 'Chiselers' Brings Sharp Statement From Local Administrator

More work projects for the Civil Works Administration were presented today when City Council sent five projects to the office of Administrator L. B. Round.

They included the improvement of Dean Park, the improvement of Cunningham Park, the pushing thru of the Taylor Street Extension, the changing of the Oak Park Cemetery road and flood prevention work in the Canyon street district.

These projects will be sent to Harrisburg immediately for approval by the state administrator Eric H. Biddle and upon the receipt of approval from Mr. Biddle the projects will be started immediately. With the school projects that are already in, there will be enough projects to put 2000 men to work here in the next three weeks it is thought.

Engineers Busy

In the office of the administrator a corps of engineers is busy plotting the various projects to be done and as fast as possible the plans are being attached to the formal request for work. Each project must have a sketch accompanying it.

Cold Wave Death Toll Is Mounting In Pennsylvania

Pittsburgh Area Has Record Cold For December 12 This Morning

RELIEF IN SIGHT ABOUT THURSDAY

Roads Of State In Rather Hazardous Condition For Traffic Is Report

(International News Service)
Jack frost and old man winter met in a rendezvous of cold and tragedy throughout Pennsylvania today as an ever mounting fatality toll recorded more than a dozen deaths.

Added to this was a hospital list ranging into the hundreds as people were injured in accidents and falls.

Cold Records Shattered

All cold records for December 12 were shattered as the mercury tumbled to seven in Pittsburgh. The former record was 12, established in 1912. The previous low mark of the season was nine, reached during the November cold spell.

Pittsburgh was the coldest spot in the eastern half of the United States, weather maps revealed. A slow warming up is in prospect, the forecaster predicted, but emphasized that it would be a slow rise.

Meanwhile, Harrisburg and Philadelphia were also shivering in lows for the year. At the state capital a low of 15 was registered and at the eastern seaboard, the temperature dropped to 19.

Relief By Thursday

No genuine relief was in sight until at least Thursday.

Pennsylvania's death toll was boosted with the death of Mrs. Frances E. Merz, 24, of Swissvale. She was killed when a car driven by her husband skidded while rounding a curve and crashed head-on into a tree.

The husband, W. J. Merz, 28, was in serious condition with a possible fractured skull. The machine was demolished.

Theodore Mientkiewicz, 17, of McKeesport, died a few minutes after his sled struck a storm sewer in the Pittsburgh suburb.

Rocco Sanacariello, 59, and William D. Troupe, 46, boosted Philadelphia's death toll to five. Scores were hurt (Continued on Page Two)

Furnaces Are Cause Of Fires

Two Double Houses On Reynolds street Take Fire From Overheated Furnaces

LOSS OF $1,000 IS SUSTAINED

Firemen from Central and No. 5 departments were called to East Reynolds street, twice within the course of an hour this morning to extinguish fires in double frame buildings, which had been caused by overheated furnaces. The loss in the two fires amounted to approximately $1,000.

At 8 o'clock, a alarm from box 56, called them to the home of A. Katz, at 110 East Reynolds street, where the furnace had been set too close to the flooring above, igniting it. The blaze followed a cold air duct into the room above. Some clothing hanging in the cellar was burned. The loss in this fire was around $300.

Search For Woman

While the fire was in progress, firemen were informed that there was a woman in the place, and donning gas masks, the firemen groped their way through the smoke-filled structure, but were unable to find (Continued on Page Two)

Fisher Ousted As NRA Head In Pittsburgh

Former Governor Fisher Resigns On Request Of Gen. Johnston

FISHER'S SPEECH CAUSE OF MOVE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 12.—Former Governor John S. Fisher today had been ousted as chairman of the local NRA committee by Gen. Hugh S. Johnston on the ground that he was "out of sympathy with the ideas, ideals, purposes and processes of the NRA."

Fisher's resignation was sent to the NRA administrator four days after receipt of a terse message from Johnston asking that he relinquish his place as head of the committee.

Gen. Johnston, in his letter to Fisher, said:

"From your recent published utterances, it is quite evident that you are entirely out of sympathy with the ideas, ideals, purposes and processes of the NRA. Under the circumstances I think you will agree with me that you resign your position as chairman of the Pittsburgh NRA committee to which you were appointed."

Fisher replied that he was in full accord with the "ideas, ideals and purposes" of the NRA but not with all of its "processes."

The demand for Fisher's resignation followed his being quoted in newspapers as having assailed certain features of the NRA in an address a month ago.

Oppose Licenses For Grove City

Civic Club Cites Vote On Beer As Reason For Refusing Licenses

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Dec. 12.—At the meeting of the Grove City Commercial Club, held last evening, a resolution was adopted opposing the granting of liquor licenses in Grove City.

The overwhelming vote of 4-1 against granting licenses for the sale of beer in Grove City, at the recent election, was the basis of the resolution, the members of the club averring that this expressed the sentiment of the residents of the town.

A temporary license to sell liquor has already been granted, the first liquor license ever issued in Grove City borough, residents claim. The resolution has been forwarded to the state liquor control board, asking that the present license be revoked, and any others applied for be refused.

Frank P. Smith was named president of the club for the ensuing year and George T. Hellman, secretary.

General Strike In Spain Fails

Rumblings Of Revolt Heard In Many Quarters; North-eastern Spain Hotbed

(International News Service)
MADRID, Dec. 12.—Despite the collapse of the nationwide general strike called by anarchists, Spain was far from tranquil today. Rumblings of revolt were heard in many quarters.

Frequent shootings and bombings terrorized regions where the government troops and civil guards had made less headway against the rebels.

Northeastern Spain remained the hotbed of the movement. The town of Belver in the Province of Lerida was reported held by rebels. In Saragossa, a city of more than 150,000 population, fighting broke out in the main street. Two were killed and several wounded as artillery was ordered into action.

In Barcelona, all workers of the city's electric plant walked out leaving the entire city in darkness.

DEMOCRATS PRESS OUSTERS IN ASSEMBLY

Five Officials Are Targets

Democrats Seek To Remove Three Justices, Senator And House Clerk

SENATOR M'CLURE CENTER OF ATTACK

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Dec. 12.—A minority Democratic party, pressing for greater representation in the Keystone state, carried its fight into the General Assembly today for the removal of three high court justices, one state senator, and the chief clerk of the House of Representatives. Action of the Democrats is directed at Justices John W. Kephart and William J. Schaffer of the state supreme court, Justice Thomas J. Baldridge of the superior court, Senator John J. McClure, Delaware county, and Eugene F. White, Delaware, chief clerk of the House of Representatives.

To Press Measure Legislative procedure requiring resolutions to be printed unless unanimous consent is given for immediate consideration prevented Rep. James L. Quinn, Allegheny, from forcing the house to take a stand on White's removal. He was expected to ask for consideration of the measure today.

Quinn introduced the resolution after the lower chamber granted White, convicted with McClure and 89 others of violating the prohibition law, an extension of his leave of absence until the 1935 General Assembly. The vote was 112 to 75 with the minority bloc voting almost solidly against the measure.

Quinn met a stumbling block when he attempted to introduce a second resolution urging the senate to remove McClure. After conferences with the chair, he decided to withdraw the measure to offer it "at a later time."

Rep. John J. Kane, Allegheny, sponsored measures advocating impeachments of the three court justices whose names appeared on the "preferred list" of J. P. Morgan & Company. He likewise was called to the chair and later withdrew the measures for the purpose of "revising the presenting them at a future date."

Speaker Grover C. Talbot announced this as being done to read the resolutions in the proper form.

BIG DELEGATION FROM DISTRICT DEMANDS CANAL

from Senator Bulkley (D) of Ohio, who said:

"I am heartily in favor of this project and urge its favorable consideration. These messages were read into the record.

Petitions Presented. Petitions signed by 15,000 citizens of Mahoning and Trumbull counties, Ohio and Lawrence county, Pa., urging reconsideration of the division engineer's unfavorable report were presented to the board by Rep. Cooper (R) of Ohio. The petitions included names of 3,000 citizens from New Castle, Pa.

The division engineer's unfavorable report was based on the grounds that use of the waterway after the proposed improvement would not return savings sufficient to justify the large costs involved.

His report said: The principal grounds upon which the adverse conclusions are based are that the unfavorable natural characteristics of the upper Beaver and Mahoning rivers, especially the steep slopes restricted widths and meagre water supply, the concentration of rail facilities and encroachment of industry and the complexity and magnitude of necessary bridge alignments all impose such physical limitations and handicaps upon the proposed improvement that that limited use of the resulting waterway would return savings insufficient to justify large costs involved."

Proponents of the project, led by Cooper, however, contend that unless the improvement work is undertaken virtual industrial ruination will result in the districts. They estimate that approximately 50,000 people will be forced to leave the area over a period of time unless the project is put underway.

The proponents also were prepared to tell the board that the opposition of the railroads to the project is based on erroneous grounds. They were prepared to present evidence showing the railroads would lose more tonnage by not having the waterway improved than if the project is undertaken.

A New Castle delegation of nearly a dozen business leaders attended the hearing headed by L. G. Genkens, president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

A warning that thousands of individuals who had invested their life savings in the Youngstown district would be ruined and the district itself virtually wiped out as an industrial center if the project was not approved, was made by J. C. Argentsinger, general counsel for the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Youngstown District Menaced. Declaring that investments in the district totaled more than $1,000,000, Argentsinger said:

"The investors, many of whom are workers, face the danger of seeing their life savings wiped out by the action of this board. If this project is not approved, the Youngstown district faces industrial destruction. Approximately 500,000 people will be affected."

"We estimate that 50,000 people would be forced to evacuate the district as mills are forced to close down and seek better waterway sites. This would mean that about 6,000 owned homes and 5,000 rented ones would be abandoned."

He added the property loss would total approximately $138,000,000 and that the loss in personal earnings would total $33,000,000 annually.

Millions Invested. Incalculable millions would be lost in investment, taxes and personal earnings.

Adding that life insurance companies had invested many millions in the district, Argentsinger continued:

"Owners of bonds and other investments in this district are located in every state of the Union."

He declared that the division engineer's unfavorable report was contrary to congressional policy which is in favor of developing inland waterways.

In a fervent appeal to the board to reconsider the unfavorable report he said:

"If the improvement work is undertaken, Youngstown will hold its own against all competitors."

Army Board Head Speaks WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The "short-sighted" policy of the railroads in refusing to reduce their freight rates in the Youngstown, O., district, was assailed today by Col. William J. Barden, chairman of the army board of engineers.

Barden started his attack against the railroads at the opening of hearings on the division engineer's unfavorable report on the proposed improvement project for the Beaver and Mahoning rivers.

"It seems to me this project merely is an indirect way of forcing the railroads to reduce their rates," Col. Barden said. "I cannot see why the government should be forced to spend $30,000,000 in order to get the railroads to do this. It certainly seems a very short-sighted policy on the part of the railroads. For the life of me I cannot see why they should not reduce the rates."

anyone. It was learned afterwards that the woman was not at home when the fire started.

At 9:10, firemen were called to the double frame house occupied by Moses John and Peter Parange, at 416 and 418 1/2 East Reynolds street, where a similar fire was in progress.

The blaze, which originated over the heater, worked its way up the stairway into the kitchen and on up through the partition to the second floor.

A loss of $500 on the building and $200 on the contents was sustained in this fire.

ing November. On December 16 and 17 last, the mercury dropped to two below zero here, which was the coldest mark of the winter season.

The state of Ohio, unlike Pennsylvania, seems to be able to switch its auto license color combination as much as it likes. We haven't seen the 1934 plates yet, but we understand they have white numerals on a maroon background. Our own are just the opposite of the '33 colors.

Word from the Pymatuning dam, where efforts are being made to push the completion of the dam and where the Pennsylvania railroad is revamping its course, is that the ground is, or was until the cold spell, about as soft as you could find it anywhere. Difficulty in moving heavy machinery was found in certain instances.

Ice skating should be possible if this spell of King Winter keeps up. Pa Newc knows scores who hope it will.

And, it might not be untimely to remind the Christmas mailers about that tinsel business. Beautiful and brilliant are these holiday greeting cards that carry the granulated stuff, but the post office doesn't go for it. It's been forbidden in the mails by law—it just doesn't pass, that's all. And those Christmas stickers, they're o. k. if not carried to extreme. Sometimes the mailers almost hide the postage stamps with them. And, last but not least, mail early!

A local citizen today complained to Pa Newc about the practice of youthful sled riding enthusiasts at the corner of Alder street and Sheridan avenue. Last night they stepped out in front of automobiles stopping the cars, and asking for rides up the hill. This was a dangerous practice, since many of the motorists were taken unawares and had to clamp on their brakes on icy streets.

December 15 marks the close of the deer season. Hunters who have failed to bag a deer have but three more days.

Pa Newc observed this morning that Big Run creek down the South Side, was frozen over completely.

Gordon "Not Guilty" But Pay The Costs

James R. Gordon tried before Judge R. L. Gordon was involved in an accident on the New Castle-New Wilmington road when he collided with two other cars that had figured in an accident. He claimed that his apparent daze condition following the accident, was due to injuries received and not to intoxicating liquor.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

CHRISTMAS greetings are reaching their destination, are being opened and read. The answer to all this, or rather this is the answer to the post office department's appeal to "speed up" the Christmas mail, post early and similar exhortations to avoid coagulation of the postal service.

It is not difficult to find persons who dislike this early mailing or at least early reception of messages intended for Christmas Day or its twilight zone. To such persons the whole business seems premature and mechanical as so much of the observance of the holidays has unfortunately become.

But both a practical and sentimental reason stand on the other side of the issue. If everybody waited until the last day or two preceding Christmas to mail their cards, it would be Washington's birthday before the last mail would be delivered. The American people have gone into the exchange of Christmas cards so extensively that even under present conditions the postal service is about swamped.

And there is this additional comfort for persons who prefer to receive their greetings nearer the holiday that if the Christmas spirit is the delightful thing most persons admit it is then spreading it over as much of the calendar as possible ought to be all the more delightful. If the early mailing of cards of greeting tap the reservoir of goodwill sooner than formerly, then the world is better for it.

An entire year of the ebullitions of the Christmas spirit might pall after the first month or two, but it is vigorous enough to endure a fortnight and if within that period, the world is a bit merrier, generous and considerate by the early mailing of Christmas cards, there really cannot be much complaint against the practice.

STRIKES ARE COSTLY

The National Manufacturers' association, in an analysis of the industrial situation covering the last four months, finds that during that time there were more than 1,000 strikes. These walkouts occurred in many lines of industry and were due to various causes.

Of chief importance was their cost to the workers themselves. In working days lost, the cost was 7,000,000. This represented a cash loss of approximately $24,000,000. In other words, American workers during the four months period covered received in pay $24,000,000 less than they would have received had there been no strikes.

When it is remembered that this occurred at a time when millions of men were on charity lists because of their inability to find jobs, the fact takes on startling importance.

It may be that some of the strikes were justified, notwithstanding the wide prevalence of unemployment. It is difficult to believe, though, that all of them were, or that the grievances represented in those that may have had the color of justification could not have been settled by less radical means. No strike is justified until every effort has been made to effect a settlement by more peaceful means. It is not the strikers alone who suffer, but the community and industry generally.

Revolutionary changes have taken place in the management of American industry, but apparently little headway has been made toward ending industrial warfare which is continuing to exact a heavy toll. Not until means of preventing such strife are found and placed in operation will one of the important needs of the industrial world have been met.

LAW AND COMMON SENSE

A refreshing example of a court's refusing to permit trifling technicalities to save criminals from paying for their crimes has been given in Chicago. It constitutes another feather in the cap of this city in the latter's efforts to rid itself of the unsavory reputation it has held for several years as being one of the country's most lawless cities.

A gangster had been acquitted on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon on his person. The weapon was not on his person in the sense of being concealed in his clothing. It was in a golf bag swung over his shoulder. The defendant's attorney maintained, and successfully before the lower court, that technically the weapon was not on his person.

An appellate court reversed the finding, holding that the presence of the concealed weapon within reach of the defendant brought the offense within the meaning of the statutes against carrying concealed weapons.

This was a common sense interpretation of the law of the kind needed if headway is to be made in America's war on crime. When courts generally in the United States adopt this attitude a surprising improvement in crime conditions may be expected to follow.

RESPONSE TO STATE BOND OFFERING

The strong position of Pennsylvania's credit was flatteringly attested in the response to the $25,000,000 bond offering.

This was the largest state or municipal single piece of financing in more than a month.

Although bearing a low rate of interest and, because of the premium, actually yielding less than some new federal flotations, the issue was quickly absorbed.

You'll notice, however, that the gold standard is threatened only during the world's crazy spells.

DON'T BE TOO POSITIVE!

Are you so set in your opinions that you won't try to get the viewpoint of others?

How often you dismiss assertions with the statement that they are foolish and not founded on good sense.

If you are like this you will go through life with many erroneous ideas.

Usually the person who is positive in assertions and will not listen to the opposite side of a question is more or less ignorant.

The wise one solicits the ideas of others that he may weigh what he can get against what he has.

In that way he may come nearer the truth and be able to make some really well substantiated facts.

Think over the persons you know who are so positive in statements; how far advanced are they along these very lines?

If you are this sort, it might be well for you to consider how one-sided your thought can become and how narrow your scope of real information and how limited your ideas may be, even with study.

Having moved to a new apartment, a gentleman took his laundry to the nearest Chinese washing emporium, but when he went to reclaim it, he was unable to find the colored slip bearing the mystic hieroglyphs.

"Lostest ticket," he explained to the Celestial. "Can I get washee anyhow?"

"Certainly," came the urbane reply. "I noticed that there was a long tear in your pajamas and a hole in one shirt. Here you are."

"You must be one of those Harvard men," gulped the Caucasian.

"No," just night school. "Thank you."

And the customer's face was flushing like a school boy when he left.

LIFE'S VARIETY.

We seek, we struggle and we tire. Are disappointed in our desire.

Gain something, lose it and begin Another fragile prize to win.

For so 'twas planned and so must be. The tale of human history.

Who rises high at last must fall To share the grave with one and all.

If life were only that and naught Beyond that, worth a moment's thought.

If pride and pomp and power possessed The only keys to peace and rest.

And hours of happiness unstained, 'Twere best that death were quickly gained.

For living long would be to bear Merely a greater weight of care.

Days come and go and soon the mind To countless pleasures grows inclined.

In trees and flowers and skies and streams Man finds an endless source of dreams.

Builds friendships and beyond his needs Finds peace in little kindly deeds.

Keeps memories tender and maintains Secure the wisdom which he gains.

Not all is vain! The spirit clings To thoughts and not material things.

And in between the days of strife Man finds the lasting joys of life.

In being, not in owning, lies The sweet contentment mortals prize.

Years bravely lived and nothing less Assures a man of happiness.

Western World Expects Much From Pan-American Sessions

Trade Benefits And Political Co-operation Are Among Results Which Are Expected By Nations Strongly Represented At Meeting

The importance of the seventh Pan-American Conference, at Montevideo, is regarded by observers as clearly indicated by the presence there of ten Foreign Ministers, including Secretary of State Harkness. Maintenance of peace in the Western Hemisphere is conceded to be the outstanding problem before the delegates, but by no means the only one. Trade relations and transportation facilities being also slated for discussion.

The BALTIMORE SUN believes that "there is a possibility of really constructive measure for political, if not economic, cooperation in the Caribbean for the first time since the Panama rebellion of 1902" while to the CLEVELAND NEWS it appears that "the rich young continent of North America and South America may have grown so close that they can get along without Europe (whose best export to the Americas, incidentally, has been its people) but they have also developed to the point where they cannot live apart from each other."

"Given the friendly spirit which now seems to prevail among the nations of the New World, with the exception of Bolivia and Paraguay, fighting their battles in the Chaco," says the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "it is well worth while for representatives of Pan-American good will to meet together to talk over matters of common concern." The same paper adds: "There is more to be gained than can be expressed in agreement reduced to writing and given place in government archives."

Commercial relations between the Americas are stressed by the ATLANTA JOURNAL which declares: "Our trade with our southern neighbors after declining sharply during the depression, has increased in 1933. In the first ten months of this year, according to the latest report, Latin America accounted for thirty-two per cent of all imports into the United States, as against twenty-eight per cent in the first ten months of 1932. Latin America took fifteen per cent of all exports from the United States in the first ten months of 1933, as against thirteen per cent in the similar period of 1932. It is the natural purpose of the United States to add the Latin American trade to the fair dealing and good service, and also to cooperate cordially in all that will make for the peace, prosperity and progress of the two Americas."

Lack of optimism about trade agreements is voiced by the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, with the explanation: "In theory, the depreciation of the dollar is calculated to stimulate American exports. In fact, however, it has produced exchange restrictions which make difficult payments even for goods already sold. Moreover the declining dollar is being combated by Argentina, which, on the eve of the conference, depreciated the peso by 20 per cent, thereby perhaps setting an example to other Latin American countries.

The device of reciprocal trade pacts will doubtless be used for all its worth. Since, however, the products of many Latin-American countries compete with those of the United States, it would not seem to be worth much, save in special cases, like Chile and Argentina, which are so fortunate as to produce wines.

The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS is of the opinion that "provision of more facilities for trade and travel would help restore and keep peace among all New World lands." In addition "it would remove many prejudices and false impressions arising from ignorance or indifference to other than local concerns," adds this paper. "We are not nearly as well acquainted as we ought to be, considering that we all had our national origins in that momentous journey of Christopher Columbus 441 years ago," remarks the PORT HURON TIMES HERALD.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Marking the start of what the weather bureau forecast as "the hardest winter in years" a new cold snap was due to strike the northeastern states today.

In the wake of the severest storm of the winter, thus far, which left the metropolitan sheathed in snow and ice, weather forecasters predicted a low of 10 above zero early today with little relief expected. The cold was scheduled to continue during the day with a slight rise in temperature and additional snow looked for tonight.

Eleven Dead

A blasting, icy gale of 51 miles an hour halted flying activities at all Long Island fields and at the army post at Mitchel Field, it was reported the winds had reached almost 60 miles an hour at the upper altitudes.

While no new deaths were recorded in the New York area, eleven fatalities were reported throughout the East and scores of motor accidents, due to icy streets and high winds were reported.

The biting cold and a two inch snowfall brought additional distress to the homeless and unemployed.

REGARDING CHILD LABOR

Editor of The News,
Dear Sir:
I read in The News of the agitation regarding child labor. The question to my mind, hinges on what type of child labor the legislators are thinking about. We should not put a child to bodily labor which will tax their strength and health. My belief is, that it is not wrong to start a boy out selling papers at the age of nine years, even if it does not interfere with his studies. It will give him an opportunity to know the value of money, how to spend it, and how to save it.

A boy of 17 or 18 years of age should help to keep up the table, for a boy of that age can eat as much as a man, and they need to eat plenty for they are still growing. Many of our self-made men started selling papers or doing something of a like nature. Many of them helped support the home and clothed themselves. In my estimation, it gives them employment and keeps them out of mischief.

My wish would be that all youths could have some kind of easy employment to make themselves self-supporting.

God bless and protect the newsboys throughout their lives, is my earnest prayer.

Tifereth Israel
Hanukah Service

Feast Of Lights Celebration
Will Begin This Evening At Jewish Synagogue

Rabbi Morris Shiffman of Tifereth Israel announces that the Hanukah celebration will begin this evening in the synagogue with appropriate services and will continue for eight days, through December 19.

Beginning the 25 day of the Jewish month, Kislev, Hanukah, the feast of lights will be observed by Jews all over the world. This is one of the minor festivals commemorating the struggle for independence as it was fought by Mattathias and his five sons against Antiochus, the Syrian ruler. The victory won by the Jews was more than a civil victory, it was a triumph of monotheism over polytheism.

The story immortalized in the feast of lights is that when Judas Maccabeus, one of "Mattathias" sons, wished to consecrate the temple, there was but one flask of pure oil bearing priestly seal, left after the enemy's ravage. It was a measure that would last for a day, but through a miracle it served for eight days, when new oil was prepared.

The holiday lasts for eight days and each evening there is a ceremony of kindling lights, beginning with one light the first day, one being added each day, progressing through the eight days.

France-Germany May Talk Arms

Discuss Subject Of France And Germany Negotiating Direct Disarmament

By ARNO DOSCH-FLEUROT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PARIS, Dec. 12.—The subject of direct disarmament negotiations between France and Germany was discussed in detail at a lengthy session of the council of ministers today.

Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour reported on the conversations recently held in Berlin between Chancellor Hitler and French Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet. He revealed Germany had asked an army of 300,000 men, tanks, planes, battleships and submarines as a basis of negotiations.

France demurred on the naval demands, it was learned, and specified it was willing to discuss a German army of 300,000 men, unless Chancellor Hitler's Brownshirts are included or disbanded.

No definite action was taken by the cabinet. Inasmuch as Great Britain is attempting to effect a pact of mutual non-aggression between Germany and France, the government prefers to await the return to Paris of Lord Tyrrell, British ambassador.

Probe Gold Price Leak To London

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Exhaustive investigations of charges that the American buying price for newly mined gold is available in London before its announcement in Washington continued to engross the attention of the treasury department today.

Acting Secretary Morgenthau admitted he was mystified. He expressed the opinion that somebody was doing some accurate guessing, if the gold price has been given out first in London, and said that in his belief there had been no leak.

Only three persons, Mr. Morgenthau, Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and a third unnamed known the price of gold before it is announced, the acting secretary said.

The price is given to the Western Union Telegraph Company one minute after it goes to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, the latter message being virtually simultaneous with the time the price is made available to the Press associations and other news agencies in the treasury.

Morgenthau said no complaints had been received of losses by American gold firms by reason of the alleged premature announcement in London.

"If complaints of that character had been received I would be inclined to give the story credence," Mor-genthau said. "The first complaints were received informally at the treasury about ten days ago and were thoroughly investigated. I was then of the belief there had been no leak."

Injured Slightly In Auto Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Travers Discharged After Treatment
At Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Travers, R.
D. 3, city, were injured slightly after midnight when the cars of R. L.
Boyd, 22 North Jefferson street, and Travers figured in an accident near Wilmington and Sheridan avenue.

They were treated at the Jameson
Memorial hospital then discharged.
Travers sustained a cut on his face.
Mrs. Travers sustained bruises and suffered from shock.

According to the report made by Mr. Boyd to city police, he was driving south on Wilmington avenue and when his car neared Sheridan avenue, Travers, lost control of his car. It went to the left in front of Boyd's car.

Boyd's car collided with the Travers car forcing it against the curb.
A door was broken off the Travers car.

Mr. and Mrs. Travers were taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital.
The accident occurred about 12:30
a. m. today.

Plan To Speed Up Social And Labor Measures

Legislators Agree To Adjourn Special Session On December 21

PLENTY OF WORK LEFT TO BE DONE

Would Allow Distilleries Until January 1, 1935 To Pay Gallon Tax

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff

HARRISBURG, Dec. 12.—Propelled by the recorded vote of both houses to adjourn sine die on December 21, Pennsylvania's general assembly ground away today at more than a score of social and labor bills as the drive to get measures on Gov. Gifford Pinchot's desk got underway in full force.

The decision to adjourn on noon on December 21 came when organized labor successfully exerted pressure and forced a house committee holding bills it favored to report them to the floor for a vote. Advocates of these measures voiced vigorous opposition to adjournment but their cause was lost by a 115 to 83 vote in the lower house and a 32 to 12 margin in the Senate.

Shortly after the score of bills were thrust into the house by the labor committee, the senate judiciary general and appropriations body agreed to hold hearings this afternoon on all social and labor measures.

Workmen scored another victory by discharging the committee on railroads and railways from further consideration of the full crew bill. A move to discharge the same committee from holding the Bernhard bill limiting the length of trains failed by a vote of 101 to 93.

May Change Date
Labor groups viewed the early adjournment date as a deliberate attempt to throttle their legislation. Evidence was given, however, especially by the Philadelphia Senate bloc, that any attempt to go home without passing documents on social and labor subjects would compel them to move for changing the adjournment date.

Liquor was brought back into the session when Senator Harry B. Scott, Centre, introduced a bill to amend the Cordon Floor Tax Act. Attorney General Wm. A. Schneider and the liquor control board said adoption of the bill would assure payment of approximately $12,000,000 in floor tax revenue on whisky.

May Drop Suits
The measure authorizes that department of revenue to extend until January 1, 1935, the time in which manufacturers may pay the $2 per proof gallon tax on liquor in Pennsylvania before repeal. If passed, distillers now contesting the constitutionality of the Cordier act in Pittsburgh Federal court will drop their suits and make payments, the state officials said. In return, the liquor control board will purchase from these manufacturers the amount of whisky upon which the levy is paid.

Talbot Bill Passed
Another bill was introduced to make provisions of the Witkin permanent tax act void if congress passes laws giving states a share in federal liquor taxes. The amending bill also would clarify the language of the Witkin act to prevent distillers who shipped liquor out of the state to escape the floor tax from re-importing it in Pennsylvania without paying the permanent tax. With but two dissenting votes the senate sent to Governor Pinchot the Talbot bill appropriating $40,000,000 from liquor store profits for relief. This is twice the amount recommended by the governor who has indicated he will slash the appropriation.

done by the CWA. The list of repairs and improvements included the following:

Lincoln-Garfield. Point up outside walls, repairs to wood work, roof the gymnasium.

North Street. Repair wood and stone work, dig out front yard and fill with amesite or Kentucky rock.

Highland. Point up outside walls.

Need Materials

The total cost of materials necessary for all this work would approximate $10,000, according to Mr. Bauman. However, of this amount, over $5,000 would be needed for the roof on the Benjamin Junior high school, and nearly $1400 would be needed for the Senior high school roof. The roofing job on the Franklin school was a poor job to start with and has been repaired many times. The guarantee on the roof was for ten years. The labor necessary to do all the work, which would be furnished by the CWA would approximate $20,000.

When the list of projects had been read Mr. Hyde said, "I would like to see us get some improvements but I am not in favor of making improvements at schools we are not using. Lawrence school is not open and it seems to me not necessary to build walls down there."

Said Hazen: "It seems to me we shouldn't be looking for things to do. After all, we haven't much money to spend on improvements and we should do the same as we do at our homes—get along with what we have until times get better."

At this point McClelland declared himself. Voice raised, fists clenched and emphasizing his remarks with an occasional pounding of the table, he said: "Any time the government offers us five dollars worth of labor for fifty cents worth of material we should buy; it seems to me to be good business to take the offer."

"Further, there are thousands of men on the relief through no fault of their own. Do you want them to stay on relief or do you want to help them regain their self respect. My God, this is no time to be bickering over a little money that is to be spent. I think this board ought to go the limit, spend the money necessary to get these materials and I believe the taxpayers would give us credit for doing the work at a time like this. Over and above that, if we do it now with the government furnishing the labor, we are saving the taxpayers thousands of dollars in future expenditures. But the biggest thing is this—it puts men to work, gets them earning money again, aids them in regaining their self respect and helps them to pay the taxes which this board needs so badly."

"I didn't say I was against these projects," said Hyde, "and I don't appreciate being bawled out for stating my opinion. I merely said that we shouldn't be repairing a building that we are not using."

"Because the Lawrence building is not in use is no reason for allowing it to deteriorate," said Bauman. "It is on a main highway. Wouldn't it be a good idea to put in a little work there and keep the building looking good?"

"Don't we have about $24,000 over the budget requirements?" asked Mrs. Douthett. She was informed that the county treasurer had turned over in excess of $20,000 to the board representing delinquent taxes that had been paid.

"Why not go further with this idea," said she, "and paint some of the rooms in the schools. The Franklin rooms never have been painted." The other members indicated that it might be a good idea.

At the adjournment present indicated that the members would vote to approve the board's setting these projects started when the vote was called at the regular meeting Wednesday night.

Mr. John Schneider Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples.

"My trouble started with large, hard, red pimples which appeared on my face and back. They would fester and later a scale would form over them. The pimples itched and when I touched them they would burn and get red. My clothing bothered the eruptions on my back, and I could not sleep on my back on account of them."

"I had the trouble six months when I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In three months I was healed after using five cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) John Schneider, 2859 N. Marston St., Phila., Pa.

about the New Ford V-8 for 1934

Greater power at still lower cost through new Dual Carburetion—Increased motoring comfort because of simplified Clear-vision Ventilation—Easier riding through more flexible springs, deeper seat cushions and softer cushion springs—Distinctive new appearance—Many other features

1 More Miles Per Gallon—More Power, Speed and Efficiency with Dual Carburetion—Greater Oil Economy

The performance and economy of the 1933 Ford V-8 have been the talk of thousands of motorists. Owners said: "Leave it alone, don't change it." Dealers said: "Impossible to improve it!" But we have improved it—in every direction. We started with the engine. The Ford V-8 for 1934 is more powerful, more efficient, easier to start in cold weather, yet it is the most economical Ford to operate ever built—largely because of the new Dual Carburetor and Dual Intake Manifold. Furthermore, even in the coldest weather the V-8 engine warms up quickly and maintains an efficient operating temperature because of new thermostats in the waterline.

Added engine refinements—get the details about all of them from the nearest Ford dealer—reduce oil consumption and further reduce operating and maintenance costs.

2 Clear-vision Ventilation—and the Windshield Opens

There's nothing to obstruct the view in the new Ford system of Clear-vision Ventilation. It's built-in—simplicity itself. The same handle that raises the window glass also slides it back horizontally to the ventilating position, and then the forward motion of the car draws the air out of the body. Drafts are eliminated, passenger comfort is assured, and windshield will not fog in cold weather. Another interesting feature of the Ford system—the windshield can be opened! This, and the cowl ventilator, provide the additional air needed for hot-weather comfort.

3 Greater Beauty—New Radiator Shell and Grille—Fenders in Color

A car to be proud of, the Ford V-8 for 1934 has newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, and other distinctive features. Interiors are more attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new mouldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests and new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

Fenders on all De Luxe cars are in color to harmonize with body colors—wheel colors optional. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

4 Transverse Springs—Comfort with Stability and Safety

Ford transverse springs provide the utmost stability and safety. Placed crosswise, they tend to prevent the body from tilting on uneven roads, and turns can be taken safely at relatively high speeds. Free and easy action of all four wheels is permitted because the outer flexible tips of the springs are attached to the axles. Thus the most sensitive parts of the springs receive road shocks first and absorb them before they reach the body. The advantages of the solid axle are retained.

McClelland Fails To Get Approval

State Senate Will Not Confirm Appointment Of Pittsburgher To Boxing Commission

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 12.—Pennsylvania limped along with a two-man boxing commission today while the senate wrangled over Allegheny county politics and the nomination of Dr. William D. McClelland, Pittsburgh, a new appointee.

Acting on the report of the executive nominations committee, the senate confirmed Gov. Gifford Pinchot's re-appointments of Harry T. Farrell, Wilkes-Barre, present chairman of the board, and Robert J. Nelson, Reading, negro.

The committee however, ignored McClelland's nomination for the position held by Harvey J. Boyle, Pittsburgh, who was sponsored for re-appointment by C. C. McGovern, county commissioner. Other nominations approved by the senate included Louis F. Arensburg, East Millsboro, to be a member of the board of trustees of the Soldiers' & Sailors' Home at Erie.

The alderman was notified by local hospital authorities today that Ross would probably undergo an operation today. His condition was reported as unfavorable. Natale is being held in the county jail.

Red Cross Has Busy November

Over 8,000 Garments Distributed To Needy Of Community Last Month

HOLD ELECTION DURING JANUARY

November was an extremely busy month with the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, one of the participating agencies of the New Castle Community Chest.

The report of Mrs. David Kay, chairman of the Red Cross garment committee, showed distribution of 8,535 garments, 55 comforts, and 339 blankets.

During the month, 2,226 calls for clothing and bedding were received at the chapter office, and 4,073 persons were aided. Of the garments issued, 7,043 were made up garments and 1,492 were from Red Cross cloth made up by local garment units. There were seven sewing units and seven cutting units working during the month, at which 543 persons were employed.

The office was closed during six days of the month for the purpose of checking records, so that the 2,226 calls were received during 20 working days.

The report of Miss Kathryn A. Hite, chapter nurse, showed 171 visits were made, of which 24 were sick bed calls, 33 health supervision, and 84 maternity cases. In addition, she made 19 interviews in behalf of Red Cross work, and attended four meetings.

Partial report was made of the Roll Call conducted during November, returns from which are not as yet complete. This showed several districts had exceeded their last year's effort, while some of the others had fallen short. Chairmen are being urged to make their returns as rapidly as possible.

A nominating committee was appointed to report back in January, when the annual election of officers of the chapter will take place. The committee is composed of Mrs. C. J. Kirk, Paul F. Butz, and W. J. Moffatt.

WEIRTON STEEL VOTE ON FRIDAY

National Labor Board In Charge Of Election By Workers

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The national labor board was fully prepared today to go directly to the courts and ask that penalties be imposed both on the officials of the National Steel Company and officers of an alleged company union if either continues tactics designed to obstruct the holding of a fair election in the company plants on Friday.

The board is armed with an agreement signed by E. T. Weir, president of the company, in which he gave the labor board complete authority to supervise an election of workers' representatives in the company's plants at Weirton and Clarksburg, W. Va., and Steubenville, Ohio.

The agreement stipulated the election should be held "in the second week of December." Acting in a routine fashion to set the date and establish regulations for the election, the labor board found that a group of workers, hastily named at a company-sponsored election last June, claimed to be "truly representative" of the workers of the plants and challenged the right of the board to conduct the proposed election this week.

The alleged company union officials came to Washington in a body and demanded the right to conduct an election yesterday after their own fashion. They said "by-laws" of their union forbade use of a ballot on which voters could make their choice secretly by making a check mark. They demanded use of a ballot on which the names of each representative would have to be written in.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the board, signified his determination to permit steel workers of the nation to join bona fide unions if they wished by ignoring the alleged company union's demands.

On Saturday he ordered the steel company to turn its payroll books over to the Pittsburgh regional board for determination of the names of workers entitled to vote. Yesterday the company promised to send the books to Pittsburgh. The senator later ruled that all workers on the payroll 60 days prior to December 1 and all workers on the payroll during the first two weeks of September would be qualified as voters.

MRS. DAVY'S CLASS

A meeting of the Sunday school class of the Mahoning M. E. church, taught by Mrs. Q. E. Davy, will take place on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. A. B. Root, Wilmington avenue, with Mrs. Ruth Crisswell as the hostess, and Mrs. Thelma Booher her associate.

The meeting will be a social one, as conducted once a month.

The talkie "Design For Living," seems to be a hit, but "Design For Making A Living" would be more to the point just now.

General Johnson has overlooked a bet. He could have wise-cracked: "If we don't crack down we're gonna crack up."

AROUND CITY HALL

What a difference a few years make in the lives of some people. For instance there was a linen washing scene in public yesterday when Mayor Mayne held police court. Hubby was accused by wife and wife was accused by hubby.

He wouldn't work and when he did he spent all his money, so wife said. Husband declared that he worked as hard as he could and when he did get money he gave it to her and she disposed of it.

Finally she declared she would be glad if he just didn't show up at their home anymore and he agreed that perhaps it would be equally nice if he agreed not to show up at the domicile in the future.

So the mayor, just to be agreeable smiled. "It's all right with me but don't forget you have a child and you must pay weekly $3.00 to your wife for the maintenance of the child."

It was agreed upon. He departed through the rear door and she departed through the front door. A couple of years ago everyone was heaping congratulations upon them.

Neil Williams, clerk at the office of the city engineer, said today he recorded approximately 600 property deeds during the past 12 months. Many of them were property transfers and he said that in many cases where a deed formerly had been made out to a husband the latter came in and had it made a joint deed.

City Hall has been struck by illness. Councilman Louis Genkinger was indisposed but not sufficiently to keep him from his desk. Miss Susan Wallace, a city hall clerk had to temporarily relinquish her duties. Howard Phillips had tooth trouble and several of the policemen had intestinal influenza.

Not so long ago Miss Agnes Schepp, Croton, slipped and fractured a hip on a loose manhole cover in Scott street. She did not sue the city but asked the city to recompense her for bills she must pay a physician and nurse, amounting to about $125.00. The city solicitor has ruled the city not liable.

The city solicitor has in the past ruled that when the city has had no knowledge of a dangerous place and an accident occurs the city is not liable for damages. Perhaps this may be the legality of the situation but the fact remains the citizens pay people to find these dangerous positions and they should be found before an accident occurs.

Professor W. A. Hoffmaster told the writer today that he proposes to cause the arrest of every autoist who violates the red light at the Croton school. He declares that it violated, not seldom, but often. Not long ago one of the Croton teachers reported a Mercer, Pa. man for running through a red light. He was summoned to the police station.

Not long ago Mayor Mayne warned that persons who could afford to pay 25 cents for a drink of liquor then pay several dollars to get down would have to pay several dollars to get up again. He made this warning effective yesterday when he fined a man $10.00, and costs on a charge of drunkenness.

From the testimony in police court the man obtained a pint of legalized liquor which evidently didn't sufficiently give him the feeling he desired. Three pints of "moonshine" were purchased. After two of the three pints had been consumed he became quarrelsome.

In fact, he is reported to have punched a woman in the eye, which resulted in his arrest. The man did not deny anything excepting the charge about punching the woman. He was in no quarrelsome mood when he faced the mayor.

"If you can afford to pay $1.75 for a pint of liquor and for three pints of 'moonshine' you can afford to pay for an auto ride, the tender care you received and the warm place where you slept. Fine, $10.00 and costs," said the mayor.

The fine was paid promptly and the man was discharged.

HAS BONE BROKEN IN FALL MONDAY

Tom Armstrong, of Croton avenue, is confined to his home as a result of injuries received Monday morning, when he slipped on the icy sidewalk at the top of the hill on Croton avenue, near Walnut.

One of the bones in his foot was broken, which was put in place again at the Jameson Memorial hospital, after which he was removed to his home. He will be forced to get about with crutches for some time, as a result of the accident.

BOY SCOUTS

CALLS LEADERS' CLUB
A discussion of 1934 plans will feature the December meeting of the Scout Leaders' Club when it occurs in the First Christian church on Thursday evening, December 14.

TROOP HONORS 'DADS'
Honoring their fathers, boys of Troop 12 of the Second U. P. church staged a pancake supper event in their church with nearly 45 persons in attendance.

The opening exercises were held with the fathers taking part. The Rev. C. K. McGeorge, pastor of the church and chairman of the troop committee, gave the invocation. After filling up on cakes, Rev. McGeorge welcomed the fathers and their sons, and W. J. McCullough gave the challenge to the fathers on Scouting. Sid Smith brought greetings from the district Scout Council.

"Why As a Father, Do I Believe in Scouting?" was the question which I. J. Miller, one of the fathers answered. He compared the gang of his day with the gang control of today. The evening's principal talk was given by Nicholas Casillo, Senior high school science instructor.

Scoutmaster Ray Zeigler made the announcements and awarded tenderfoot badges to J. Breneman and A. Stemple. In the closing exercises, Color Bearers Shiner, McKee and Guards, Shaffer and Robinson, participated.

FINAL COURT NEWS

Boy Scouts of the New Castle district are wasting no time these days preparing themselves for the final Court of Honor ceremony of 1933. December 29th has been chosen as the date, but no place has been announced as yet.

Down in Ellwood City, December 22 will be the date for the December award exercises.

Since October 1 the Lawrence county troops have been quietly but none the less diligently engaged in their annual "troop efficiency contest" in which the troop scoring the greatest number of points is recognized by appropriate prizes.

And for this reason, the December court takes on additional significance, the court provides points that help boost a troop's pointage sometimes.

MAY ASK 'SCOUT STAMP'
Efforts to have the United States government issue a Boy Scout commemorative stamp in 1935, the year which marks Scouting's 25th anniversary, have already been started according to the council office here. Petitions, carrying the names of supporters who would like to see it done, are expected to be circulated.

WEST PITTSBURGH LEADS
West Pittsburgh Troop 1 and New Wilmington Troop 1 held the leading positions in the county's Troop Efficiency contest at the close of last week, a bulletin issued by Scout Executive Herbert G. Horton announced. West Pittsburgh has amassed 1,732 points while the college town lads have 722. New Castle 12, with 607 points and in third place, is the highest-ranking New Castle troop.

MORAVIA

T. P. Crawford is on the jury this week.

E. C. Allen was a caller in Beaver Falls on Saturday.

Paul Wigley who underwent an operation for appendicitis is much improved.

Miss Ethel Wigley has returned to her home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

John Anderson has returned home from Chicago, where he attended the stock show.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perry announce the birth of a daughter, on Sunday, December 10.

Piles Go Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Thousands of pile sufferers have not yet learned that quick, safe and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are filled with stagnant blood, weak and flabby. To get rid of Pile misery an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, heal and strengthen the weakened parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt after years of study found a real internal remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and after prescribing it for his patients with a most remarkable record of success, decided every pile sufferer might try his prescription with a money-back guarantee. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Eckhardt's Cut Rate & New Castle Drug Co. and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID tablets and guarantee money refunded if they do not end your Pile misery.

On Court House Hill

Officials believe that more attention should be paid to ashing the court house hill after falls of snow such as covered the ground Monday morning. Court was in session and motorists had a hard time reaching the court house. When the hill is icy or covered with snow many motorists go around by way of County Line street.

It looks as though the squirrels which have been making their home in the boxes provided among the branches of the maple trees on the court house lawn, have either been killed or have sought other homes. An ear of corn which Ivor Davis placed in front of one of their boxes about a week ago has remained untouched. Mr. Davis has also contributed a bushel of corn for the squirrels in the vicinity of Wallace Avenue.

Additional reasons for a new trial have been filed in the case of Thomas J. Connors against the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad company. Connors was injured while manipulating a drawbridge across tracks at West Pittsburg. He obtained a verdict at a recent term of court.

Welfare director, M. B. Hogue, who has been confined to his home for several days by illness, is able to be back on the job again. The recent cold snap has increased the applications for aid.

Twenty-eight deeds and twenty mortgages were recorded in the register and recorder's office last week. The mortgages represented about $87,000. Probably one-third of them were refinancing mortgages, and did not represent any new money put out. Refinancing is sometimes done when interest is back, a new mortgage being taken for interest, principal and taxes. Other mortgages to buildings and loans on which substantial sums have been paid, are frequently taken in order that a reduction in monthly payments can be secured.

Letters testamentary have been granted to David Price in the estate of his late wife, Margaret A. Price. Under the will Mrs. Price left her estate to three brothers, three sisters, and her husband, David Price.

When Register and Recorder-Elect, William R. Hanna, assumes the duties of his office on January 1st, his first duties will be to learn how different instruments are recorded and the necessary steps in issuing letters, recording wills and issuing letters of administration on estates. Then there will be the inheritances taxes to figure up, and a lot of other detail work in that connection, to say nothing of the different accounts that are to be kept. Recording of deeds and mortgages is a comparatively simple process. The instruments are first entered on what is known as the "Entry" book, which shows the date and time when they were given to the register and recorder. From the entry book they are transferred to the mortgage and deed books, where they are copied word for word. Formerly this work was done by hand, but under the present system the papers are typewritten.

In addition to the deeds and mortgages which are entered on the entry book there are other instruments as agreements, bills of sale, satisfactions, assignments, rights of way, leases, plots of ground, and other documents, which afterwards copied on other books or filed away.

Then in the way of estates. When a person who has made a will dies, the will is left for record and letters testamentary are issued. The will is later copied in a will book. If there is no will, letters of administration are issued on the estate and it is divided according to law.

When a person dies the undertaker sends a record of the death to the bureau of vital statistics at Harrisburg. Officials of the bureau then notify the appraisers here to appraise the property for inheritance tax purposes. There are two appraisers, one for the county and one for the city. Formerly the register and recorder appointed appraisers for each estate, but now the two appraisers appointed by the state do all the work. When applications are made for letters an estimate of the amount of the estate must be filed, in order that the bond may be fixed.

The inheritance tax which the register and recorder must collect is 2 per cent on estates, less debts, when it goes to direct heirs, and 10 per cent, less debts, when it goes to collateral heirs. The whole amount is sent to the department of revenue.

The register and recorder collects three cents compensation on letters testamentary or letters of administration, and one and one-half cents for recording deeds, mortgages and other instruments. The state gets 48 1/2 cents on deeds, mortgages and etc., and 97 cents on letters testamentary or letters of administration. The balance of the fee goes to the county.

In the matter of the register and recorder's compensation on estates, the register gets a commission of 5 per cent of the amount of the transfer tax up to $50,000; three per cent on the next $50,000; one per cent on the next $100,000; one-half per cent on the next $100,000, and one-fourth from that up to a million dollars. This does not mean that the register gets 5 per cent of the first $50,000 to take the first case as an illustration, but only five per cent of the amount of the tax. If the $50,000 went to direct heirs, the inheritance tax at two per cent would be $1,000, and the registers commission five per cent of that or $50. If the $50,000 went to collateral heirs, then the inheritance tax would be ten per cent of that amount or $5,000, and the registers commission would be five per cent of that amount or $250.

View Of Verdict In Court
Damage Case

In the case of Samuel Clark, by his father, Elmo Clark, against Madeleine Babiarz, Judge R. L. Hildebrand handed down an opinion at court, Monday, in which he held that certain transfers of property made by Mrs. Babiarz, ostensibly to escape a judgment obtained at court, were fraudulent, and the transfers, with one exception were set aside. The case is one in which Samuel Clark, minor son of Elmo Clark, was injured by the falling of a tree on the Babiarz property on Pennsylvania avenue. The boy was returning from school when the tree, which was dead, was blown over on him. Suit was brought on the grounds that the owner of the property was negligent in permitting the tree to stand.

A verdict for several thousand dollars was returned in favor of the plaintiff. It was then claimed that Mrs. Babiarz had transferred property to her children, and had given certain mortgages and judgments with the intention of avoiding payment of the judgment. A bill in equity was filed, setting forth the facts. It was upon this that the judge handed down his opinion. He holds the deed fraudulent, and sets it aside, but a judgment to Anthony Wolan stands, as it appeared to be genuine.

THE ANSWER

With Christmas in the offing comes the annual problem: "What shall I give the family this year?" Something enjoyable... something useful... something the entire family will appreciate. • The answer, of course, is a telephone. Or, if you have one, an extension telephone upstairs. For a telephone in the home is a practical necessity and an extra telephone is a delightful convenience.

Less than 10 cents a day will pay for a telephone. Less than 3 cents a day will pay for an extension telephone.

pleasant memories of our Thank-again settle down to the task of waiting for another such treat.

With the passing of the month of November we are reminded that it has been over six months since we first entered this timberland. Officers in charge have arranged our work and pleasure in the right proportion and we are appreciative of their actions, but never-the-less with no reflections inferred whatsoever, we are more than pleased when vacations are granted.

Although a vast army of deer hunters are daily entering the surrounding wood lands the forest workers are reasonably safe as the result of the employing of several protective methods. Placards have been posted some three hundred yards distant from the camp site and the working area is likewise bulletined. In addition members of the camp have flaming red strips of cloth displayed on their coats and headwear.

New spectral color schemes greet the eyes of the timberland admirers. Rolling seas of copper tree crowns are jaded with patches of evergreens where only a few days ago all was a deep green hue.

Every car of railroad freight in the United States—and that means hundreds of cars in operation or on sidings in the New Castle district—will be spotted and checked on Wednesday for Joseph B. Eastman, the government's railroad coordinator in Washington.

The freight agents of New Castle's railroads today were making preparations for conducting the check, described as "a one-day affair ordered by Mr. Eastman." It means considerable work for local offices.

The federal railroad chief wants to know where every freight car is, and more, on Wednesday, the 13th. Agents here could advance no definite reasons for the check, other than the fact that Mr. Eastman is making a special test of some kind relative to the freight department.

Weekly Health Talk

"A few days ago a woman of social position in one of Pennsylvania's larger cities was discovered to be a drug addict. The case was particularly pitiable because she had become habituated innocently. One of her 'friends' had offered her some 'headache medicine' while she was on a two weeks' visit at her home. However, exceptional this case may be, it nevertheless serves to emphasize the risk of accepting unpedigreed drugs," stated Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"It is really amazing how much confidence the average person is likely to repose in treatment suggestions from the laity. Because some one took something that cured him of his trouble apparently is all the background required for many a person to take the same dose because his friend or himself imagines that a similar condition exists.

"Assuming that drugs work the same way with everyone, which most emphatically they do not, there yet remains in such an attitude the necessity of proper diagnosis. To imagine that the man on the street, or the woman at the bridge party is in a position properly to perform a function that requires eight years of intensive preparation plus daily experience, is carrying things a bit too far. Diagnosis and treatment under all circumstances should rest with the profession. False Gods and kind friends should play no part in these activities.

"Had the unfortunate woman referred to been sensible of this fact she would not be in the sad situation which is hers today. And by the same token actually thousands of other persons could have been spared serious illnesses, and hundreds premature deaths, had they likewise realized the danger of accepting medication from others than those qualified to prescribe it.

"One may ignorantly tinker with one's automobile and impair or ruin it. And if one has the price or credit, he can replace his mistake by purchasing a new machine. Unfortunately, spare parts, much less bodies themselves, cannot be bought. Unjustifiably to tinker with the human system is running a great risk in every instance. And self-drugging and self-diagnosis represent one of the worst forms of tinkering. They should be avoided."

Liquor Traffic On Trial, Says Johnson

William E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, Noted Prohibition Crusader, Makes Statement

Believes Wets By Own Lawlessness Will Eventually Hang Themselves For Second Time

In the following article written exclusively for International News Service by William E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, world-famous advocate of prohibition, he frankly discusses the new era which is opening up as a result of the legalization of liquor in the United States.

Mr. Johnson, who years ago lost an eye in London during a riot of students who were unsympathetic to the prohibition cause, believes that the liquor traffic in America is "on trial." He declares, however, that the drys will welcome any beneficial results accruing from "the current efforts of the wets to clean house."

By WILLIAM E. JOHNSON (Noted Prohibition Crusader) (Written expressly for and copyrighted 1933 by International News Service) EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Dec. 12.—The liquor traffic is on trial.

Whether or not national prohibition comes back depends entirely on the wets. If they really make good by devising any system of liquor control that will substantially eliminate the evils of drink, then prohibition will never return. It will be as dead as the mummy of Rameses the Second.

On the other hand, if the wets fail in this, then prohibition like a ghost will return to stare them in the face. As long as the evils of the drink traffic continue, just so long will good men and women struggle against it.

Wets Have Monopoly

It is the wets themselves that have always had a monopoly of violating liquor laws, either prohibition or regulatory. Before prohibition the drys, for the protection of their homes, would form law and order societies over the land to compel the observance of liquor laws, even laws promulgated by the wets themselves, and the newspapers of today are strewn with stories of violations of laws not abrogated by repeal.

As long as the wets keep up this game, just so surely will they fan into a flame the embers of hostility against their traffic. They will simply cut their own throats.

May Swing Back

It was the lawlessness of the wets themselves that drove America into the enactment of national prohibition, and it was the lawlessness of the wets that stamped a harassed people into the repeal of the same system, and if the lawlessness of the wets continues, as now seems apparent, the pendulum will come back with a vengeance.

Because of the world-wide depression and chronic liquor lawlessness, the backwash of the World War, national prohibition did not have a Chinaman's chance. But for all that, the cause of temperance has been thereby advanced for it has focused the spotlight of the world upon the inherent lawlessness of the traffic even when licensed or nominally regulated.

There is revenue to be had, of course, but taxation of the liquor is merely a means of shunting off on the unfortunate victims of drink the burden that should be carried by reputable business. Our great government can surely manage to pay its operating expenses out of clean, honest money and not squeeze it out of the suffering and misery of women and children.

Bootleg Evil

Unless the taxes on liquors are made very low, bootlegging will continue just as it did under prohibition and under the restrictive laws prevailing before the Eighteenth Amendment.

The drys will be the first to welcome any beneficial results that may come from the current efforts of the wets to clean house, even though they may be dubious about such results being permanent. At any rate, they will never follow the historic examples of the wets in trampling under foot any kind of laws, no matter how distasteful such laws may be.

DEDICATE CHURCH.

Dedication services were held at the Methodist church on Sunday with three services, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. E. J. Jennings. In the morning, the sermon was given by Dr. C. G. Thompson, a former pastor, but now of Slippery Rock, gave the sermon in the afternoon, assisted by Dr. Farr. Rev. William Parsons, D. D., of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Henry Shillington, and Rev. Jennings conducted the evening service. Rev. Jennings was in charge. Special music was rendered by a choir of twenty-four voices, and a male quartette from West Middlesex, under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Goddard.

Sympathy is often misplaced. The man who wears an empty sleeve is not half so pathetic as the one who wears an empty hat.

Fire Chief Tells How To Turn Box Alarm For Fire

Confusion Results When Door Of Box Is Closed After Pulling Down Lever

Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman, in an effort to eliminate the confusion which results from improper use of the fire alarm box system, has outlined a simple set of rules to be followed when an alarm is to be sounded.

After turning the key and opening the box, the lever inside should be pulled down once. Never close the door afterwards. This cuts off the circuit in most of the boxes, and interrupts the alarm, which fails to register properly at the fire station. Leave the door of the box open. The firemen will close it and lock it again after the fire has been extinguished.

Several instances have been reported lately, where the box has been closed before the alarm has been completed, and firemen have not gotten the signal properly. This causes delay in reaching the scene of the blaze. This may result disastrously some time, allowing a fire to get beyond control before the firemen arrive on the scene.

sale is registered on an individual room thermometer. When the room has reached a hundred per cent goal, with every pupil enrolled, its name is placed on the school honor roll.

The aim of each room is to have at least one seal in the hands of every pupil. The thermometer is moved up one point when a student makes a purchase. No matter how many seals are bought, the thermometer only moves one point. One hundred per cent is recorded only when every pupil has bought at least one seal.

So far, there are three rooms which have reached the hundred per cent goal. They are 8-one, 8-two and 9-one. The number of seals sold is registered on the main thermometer, which is in charge of Mary Waistoky, the general chairman. The object of the drive is not only to benefit the national and county Anti-Tuberculosis Societies, but to help the student acquire a spirit of giving.

Connie Mack Disposes Of
All His Stars For Total
Of $275,000

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports

Copyright, 1933, By International
News Service
CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—The International News Service is informed today that Connie Mack has turned back the hands of the clock by nineteen years and has sold most of the surviving stars of his ball club for the sum of $275,000. It was away back in 1914 that Mr. Mack, resigning himself to the inevitable, disposed of Collins, Barry, Coombs, Plant, Bender, and after a brief delay, Baker, for varying prices up to $100,000.

Today, with a single, sweeping gesture, he is said to have disposed of Robert Moses Grove, one of the great left handers of the generation, Geo. Earnshaw, once equally great as a right-hander; Rube Walberg, pitcher and Gordon Micker, Coghlan, star catcher. The latter has secretly, or otherwise, been the property of the Detroit Club since October and, no later than yesterday, was acting as its player-manager on the floor of the Palmer House lobby.

Stars Are Sold
Briefly, the transactions already closed by Mr. Mack are said to call for the following:
Lefty Grove and Rube Walberg to the Boston Red Sox for $150,000.

George Earnshaw to the Chicago Sox for a pitcher, unidentified and the sum of $25,000.

Mickey Cochrane to Detroit for John Pasek, young catcher, and the sum of $100,000.

The money, it is declared, has already been paid into Mack's hands, so that he can discharge certain obligations, said to total $250,000. This, when paid off, would leave $25,000, and it is understood that Mack intends to use this to defray the cost of the athletic training trip to Fort Myers, Fla.

Incidentally, it is also claimed that the other interested parties in these deals have agreed to await Mack's arrival in town this morning, so that he can make his announcement personally and as he sees fit. The understanding is that he had decided to clear himself of the entire program in one statement, the idea being that one stunning shock to Philadelphia is to be preferred over a series of minor shocks, each amounting to a vast, throbbing accumulation.

Seeking New Men
Some contend, however, that Mr. Mack will content himself today with the mere announcement of Cochrane's passing to Detroit, an announcement that will hardly come as news, after all the premature publicity the transfer has been accorded. The International News Service was able to announce months ago that Cochrane would go to the Tigers as player-manager and the fact of the matter is that today Cochrane is already the manager or he is taking a great deal for granted.

For 24 hours, he has been down there on the floor haggle and bicker with other managers about possible, probably and improbable trades. At the moment, he is trying to send John Stone, the outfielder, to the Washington Senators for Goose Goslin and, wherever he goes he is followed by Detroit newspapermen, who ask him his plans and hang upon his every word.

Zero-cold motor started in 3 1/5 seconds

NEW "DICTATOR", JUST OUT OF STUDEBAKER
FACTORY COLD ROOM AT 20° BELOW ZERO, SNAPS INTO ACTION

with BLUE
SUNOCO
MOTOR FUEL

Because of its sure-fire, quick starting ability, the motor fuel selected to demonstrate the split-second starting action of Studebaker motors was, obviously, Blue Sunoco. The wisdom of this choice was proven beyond doubt. In exactly 3/5 of a second, this zero-cold motor snapped into action, and continued to run gently and smoothly.

with SUNOCO
MERCURY MADE
MOTOR OIL
(NO. 20-W)

This test demonstrated beyond dispute, the wisdom of car manufacturers in recommending to their car owners the use of a new type of winter oil, 20W.

Without doubt, Sunoco 20W aided materially in this quick starting demonstration, because it not only lubricated instantly but permitted the battery to turn over the motor without the usual drag.

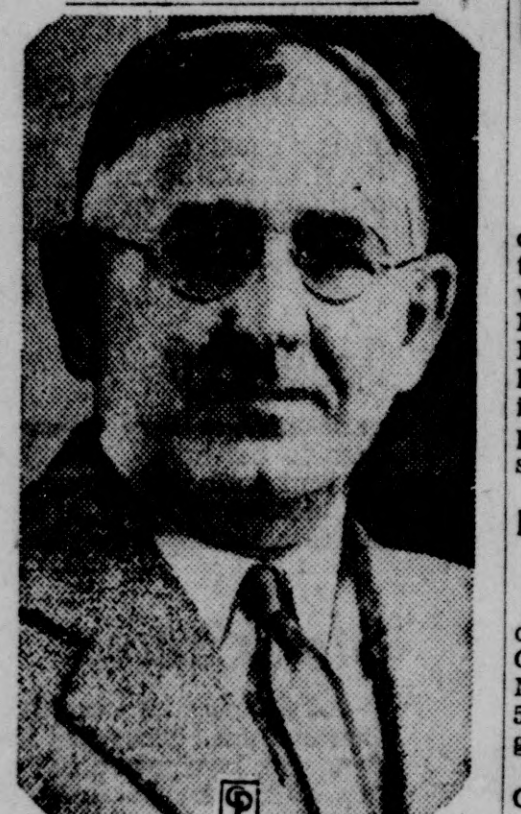

1. A new "Dictator" was recently placed in Studebaker's cold room and filled with Blue Sunoco and Sunoco "Mercury Made" Motor Oil (20W). Ice was piled on the car—then, at 20° below zero, water was sprayed all over it, except left front window. At 8 A. M. two days later, Miss Eloise Metz crawled through this window which was then covered with ice. Car was again sprayed and remained for 3 1/2 hours at 20° below zero.
2. At 11:30 A. M. Miss Metz in this 2 ton iceberg was towed to business district of South Bend, Indiana. At command of "Contact", yelled through megaphone, Miss Metz turned "Startix" key. In exactly 3/5 of a second the motor was purring smoothly. Regular stock equipment on this car is Automatic Startix and Automatic Choke.
3. After the motor started the Chief of Police chopped away sufficient ice to permit Miss Metz to see in order to drive the car.
4. Miss Metz getting first look at the crowd from her 2 ton iceberg.
5. Dictator speeding down the streets of South Bend, Indiana. Blue Sunoco in the gas tank, "Mercury Made" Sunoco Motor Oil (20-W) in the crankcase.

Shenango To Be Tough Opponent

Rainey Men Will Give Lots Of Trouble To Locals Tonight

GAME TO START AT 8 O'CLOCK

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 12.—Ellwood City high basketball team will play a stiff workout last night in preparation for the invasion of Shenango township high school this evening at Lincoln gym.

The locals have been working with determination since their defeat at the hands of Monaca high school last Thursday in opening their season here. They are resolved to redeem themselves to their coach and supporters tonight. They have been working on several new plays which they intend to spring tonight.

The game promises to be a real intersectional battle, as Shenango is no weak team. They flashed their winning last Saturday when they trimmed the Centerville high team, 36-12, on the Shenango floor. Centerville was the winner of their sectional title in class B and played in the eliminations at Pittsburgh last year. Saturday's defeat at the hands of Shenango was the worst they had suffered in five years.

Arnold and Zeigler, the two star forwards of the Shenango team, will bear close watching. They scored nine and 10 points respectively, against Centerville. Captain Polenick also scored nine points in his guard position. Coach Ed. Rainey has been priming his proteges for the Ellwoodians. Since Shenango's recent showing the locals are not underrating the visitors tonight, and are prepared to use every resource in obtaining a victory.

Both coaches are expected to start the same line-up they had in their first game. If Ray Latiano's scholastic standing has been improved since last week he will start the game instead of Alex Robuck at forward.

The game will get under way at eight o'clock. A preliminary game will in all probability be played by the Reserves of both schools at seven.

The probable line-up for the game is as follows:

Ellwood
Latiano or Shenango
Robuck F. Arnold
McFadden Zeigler
Tammara C. Van Emen
Bunny (C) G. Harteg
Vandrello G. (C) Polenick

Steel Stocks
Show StrengthOils Also Buoy Up Market
In Light Trading This MorningBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Strength in the steel, oil and New York City transaction buoyed the stock market in light trading today. The metals, however, continued to meet with selling losing from fractions to a point.

Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit was a feature gaining nearly 2 points while Interborough gained about 1 point. The strength here was due to the belief by traders of imminent unification.

The sharp jump in steel operations announced by the American Iron and Steel Institute yesterday brought further strength into the steel shares which responded by gaining from fractions to about a point. United States Steel, Republic, Bethlehem and Youngstown were favorites on the movement.

Oil shares, heretofore neglected came to life in the forenoon and registered fractional gains. Trading in the group, though, was comparatively small.

The selling of the metal shares including Cerro de Pasco, Alaska Juneau and Dome was apparently due to the failure of the R. F. C. to change the gold price which remained at $34.01 an ounce for the tenth consecutive day.

Commodity markets were quiet and lower. Wheat and other grains were quiet and fractionally lower, and cotton was practically unchanged. A sale in light trading. Silver continued to meet with profit taking and lost another half a cent an ounce.

Enemies of King Carol Attack His "Love Life"

A semi-secret manifesto bearing the title, "The Clock Has Struck", which reveals the intention of revolting political leaders of Rumania to form an organization of "Steel Guards" to oppose the regime of King Carol, has been issued by former Premier Maniu, peasant party leader and the king's most redoubtable enemy. In the article, Maniu attacks King Carol and his paramour, Mme. Magda Lupescu, and declares that Queen Helena, divorced wife of the king, has been virtually expelled from the country. Crown Prince Michael, the article says, "is forced to live without his mother for the sake of a favorite," while Queen Marie, mother of the king and regarded as the founder of Greater Rumania, "must drown her sorrows in constant trips."

Peek To Direct Foreign Trade

Foreign Trade Expansion Program Swings Into Active Operation

PEEK'S REMOVAL QUIETS A. A. A.

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—President Roosevelt's foreign trade expansion program swung into active operation today, with former A. A. A. Administrator George N. Peek in charge.

Peek headed a temporary committee which immediately began a survey over the field of possible expansion of trade on the theory of exchange of goods. Within two weeks the president will recommend to the president a form for permanent machinery to handle the work.

The former agricultural administrator will remain in charge of the trade work, whatever form the permanent organization takes. He was named to direct the temporary committee in the capacity of special assistant to the president on trade policy.

Dispute Settled
Peek's removal from the post of A. A. A. administrator settled a dispute of many weeks. He and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace differed violently with regard to a number of policies, and it was felt that after their opposing views were, to some extent, aired, the department was too small for both.

Wallace's resignation was, of course, out of the question, and it was felt that unless some move was made soon, Peek would resign.

The new trade work is the answer.

There were two distinct phases of work to be carried out by the new organization, the first involved location of markets for surplus American agricultural products; the second embraced a search of foreign countries for some product which this country could import without interfering or competing with domestic trade.

Soviet Talk Given Before Lions Today

Dr. Blaisdell, Professor At Slippery Rock, Relates 1932 Visit

Russia's present day educational system came in for praise in an address which Dr. Thos. C. Blaisdell, professor at the Slippery Rock State Teacher's college delivered before today's luncheon meeting of the Lions Club.

"Instead of decreasing her budget for educational purposes" the state college faculty man declared, "Russia has increased her's. And I would say that in Russia today more experimentation in education is going on than in any other part of the world. He said 27,000,000 pupils are attending her schools.

In his enlightening review of Russian life, agricultural, industrial and otherwise, Dr. Blaisdell described things as he observed them when he and Mrs. Blaisdell visited the Soviet land in the summer of 1932.

During the course of his remarks, the college instructor pointed out that "children in Russia are cared for better than they are in any part of the world." He said that children are given attention no matter whether adults must undergo suffering or not.

writing a worthless check for $21.40, Jack Wisdom, 26-year-old ranch hand, killed Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pritchard of Wichita and concealed their bodies beneath culverts in Oklahama.

That, in brief, was the story of the double murder of the prominent Wichita couple as told in a signed confession given to Elip Eubanks, assistant county attorney of Wichita, by Wisdom, who is held in the state reformatory here for safe keeping.

The confession, signed late yesterday, placed all the blame for the double murder on Wisdom and made no mention of a "Buck Smith," who Wisdom had charged earlier in a verbal confession, shot the Pritchards while he looked on.

In his signed confession, Wisdom denied he had any part in the killing of Emory Large, ranch hand of Meade, Kans., whose body was found in an old well on the ranch where Wisdom and Large formerly worked.

OAKRIDGE HOME IS NOT SOLICITING ANY FUNDS, MCBRIDE SAYS

The Crawford Oakridge children's home is not in any way soliciting for

It had been reported to Mr. McBride that a man had been soliciting funds in a house to house campaign, creating the impression that the money was to be used for the Crawford Oakridge home.
